FIVE CENTS

Railway Tanker Explosion Kills 3, Injures 52

Chemical-Laden Car
Is Hurl'd 200 Feet
From Blast Site

MONROE, La. (AP) — Workers began picking through debris today, searching for any other victims of an explosion that hurled a railway tank car filled with chemicals 200 feet into a cotton field.

Three men were killed in the blast Friday night and at least 52 injured. Five of the injured were in critical condition.

The sheriff's office said several persons were believed still missing.

Ruins Being Searched

Sheriff Bailey Grant said a careful search was being made of the ruins for any other victims and that precautions were being taken against further explosions.

Missouri Pacific Railway workers and firemen watched another nearby car loaded with either propane or butane liquid gas, fearing another blast.

Crowds jammed the area five miles south of here when the blast seen at Rayville 25 miles to the east, rocked the area. But officers cordoned off the area later and cleared out all spectators.

Dead Man Identified

The first dead man identified was O. C. Mitchell, a Lake Village, Ark., Negro who was working with other railway crewmen close to the blast site in attempts to clear the tracks.

Thirty-two persons were admitted to hospitals and 17 were treated and discharged.

Two of the injured were spectators.

Cars of the hundreds of spectators also figured in difficulties of ambulance drivers who shuttled the blast victims to Monroe hospitals. They lined much of the five mile strip of highway between this north Louisiana city and the blast site, causing a traffic jam.

The car which exploded was one of 33 derailed some 19 hours earlier. A journal box on the axle of one car on a 139-car Missouri Pacific train overheated and caused the derailment. Explosions at that time, set off in several chemical laden tank cars, started fires that burned throughout Friday.

Railroad officials indicated they planned to let the fire burn out rather than continue trying to extinguish it because of difficulty in getting anybody near.

Two Persons Are Hurt In Road Mishap

Two persons were injured slightly in one of three accidents investigated by the State Highway Patrol Friday.

Cars driven by Howard L. Clunk, 42, of Lisbon and Dixie Darlene Johnson, 21, of Lisbon collided on Rt. 45, four miles south of Salem, at noon, patrolmen said.

Injured and treated at Salem City Hospital were:

Katharine Clunk, 43, wife of the other driver, abrasions of both knees and of the nose.

Miss Johnson was cited for having no operator's license.

Patrolmen reported that cars driven by William F. Bratt, 36, of Wellsville and William E. Tompkins, 27, also of Wellsville, collided on Rt. 45, two miles north of Wellsville, at 7:15 a.m.

Bratt was arrested for driving left of center, patrolmen said.

An auto driven by Richard J. Hawkins, 31, of New Waterford and a pickup truck operated by Peter M. Kintz, 16, of East Palestine collided on County Rd. 421, one mile east of its intersection with Rt. 46 near New Waterford, at 11:30 a.m.

Columbiana, Mahoning School Funds Listed

Mahoning County schools' share of state school foundation money was $4,722,726.

Weather Is To Blame

Travel Miseries Beset Legislators

By DUANE E. CROFT
News Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS, Ohio—With three weeks of the current session behind them, most members of the 103rd Ohio General Assembly are willing to agree on one thing. The biggest problem they have faced so far is the weather.

Every week has presented its commuting headaches. Two out of the three "going down" days and the same proportion of "going back" days have been afflicted by snow, ice, fog, rain, flood or combinations of those hazards.

Troublesome — even dangerous — as such conditions are, the legislators philosophically resort to whimsy as the best antidote for the tensions stirred up by the whims of the weather.

One senator said he plans to propose an amendment to the Constitution to pay for lawmakers' hotel bills when they are stranded in the capital and have to stay over an extra night.

Another said that in view of the big economy drive, now it would be cheaper just to move the sessions up to summertime.

Some of the legislators, especially the newcomers, are threatening — with tongues in cheek — to resign if they have to face one more week of travel miseries. Others have indicated they'll hold out for the rest of this session but may not run for re-election. Fighting the weather just isn't worth it.

Two Fliers Set Endurance Flight Record

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Two fliers, stiff and sore from seven weeks in a cramped cabin, dined on today to a new world record for an endurance flight.

Robert Timm, 32, Las Vegas, and John Cook, 33, Los Angeles, passed the old record of 50 days 18 minutes at 4:09 p.m. Friday. They kept right on toward their goal of 60 days. The fliers are helping promote a Cancer Fund drive.

"We may stay up now until the engine stops running," Timm crowed. "You can be sure we won't be down in less than another 10 days."

They went on with their four hours on, four hours off stints piloting a single-engine Cessna 172 in the Blythe, Ariz.-Las Vegas areas. They were jubilant, if tired.

Every morning the fliers snoop low over the airport in Blythe to keep a 90-mile-an-hour rendezvous with a pickup truck. They hoist their breakfast, lunch and mail up in a basket. They get their fuel and a hot supper every evening the same way.

The old record for unbroken flight was claimed by Jim Heth and Bill Burkhardt of Dallas, Tex., last Sept. 21.

DiSalle Asks Study Of Ohio Rest Homes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Welfare Director Mary Gorman was asked today by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to make a study of rest homes in Ohio.

The governor said the study should deal with the possible classification of such homes caring for older patients and those who are mentally disturbed.

The governor expressed belief that the classifications might lead to separate supervision.

Appeal Court Ponders Cuban's Death Sentence

'Showcase' Trials
Are Criticized by Foreign Newsmen

HAVANA (AP) — An appeal court considered today the death sentence given in a circus setting at the first public war crimes trial. The two remaining showcase trials were postponed until Monday.

Revolutionary leader Fidel Castro reportedly suggested a radio and television blackout on the other trials in an apparent effort to avoid too much public excitement. An aroused crowd threatened the next two defendants Friday.

Foreign correspondents invited to the trials had criticized the carnival atmosphere of the trial which opened Thursday before 17,000 shouting Cubans and ended Friday morning with many still watching on television.

A sampling of opinion among the 322 foreign newsmen reported to be here indicated agreement with the legal procedure used, however. Better understanding abroad of the provisional government's aims was foreseen as a result of the public trials.

Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, 51, a career army man, was convicted on charges of murdering at least 25 persons in Oriente province, scene of the bitterest fighting in Castro's two-year rebellion that overthrew dictator Fulgencio Batista on Jan. 1.

The 3-man military tribunal that convicted Sosa Blanco sentenced him to die before a firing squad. The tribunal president, Maj. Humberto Sori Marin, announced that a 5-member Superior War Council had agreed to hear Sosa Blanco's appeal.

There was no indication when the appeal court would reach a verdict.

Sori Marin announced the postponement of trials for Lt. Col. Ricardo Luis Grao, 45, and Capt. Pedro Morejon, 38, also career army men. The trials finally were set for Monday afternoon after first being delayed 24 hours.

Hope for 12 Trapped In Mine Fades

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — New problems faced the Wyoming Valley of northeastern Pennsylvania today even as rescue workers continued efforts to reach 12 trapped miners and to stem the steady flow of the Susquehanna River into the valley's coal mines.

Fears were expressed that the river waters pouring into a mine breach in nearby Port Griffith would force poisonous and explosive coal gas to the surface.

Councilman Anthony Wycall of Duryea cautioned residents to keep cellar windows open so that any gas forced to the surface can escape rather than accumulate inside homes.

Twelve mines have been closed as the river waters bubbled unseen through the maze of tunnels criss-crossing under the valley.

Little hope remained for the men missing in the flooded workings of the Knox Coal Co. mine in Port Griffith since the Susquehanna burst into a mine tunnel Thursday.

Of the 45 men working at the time, all but the missing 12 made their way to safety through nearby shafts before the rising waters blocked their escape.

Hunt Continues For Stolen Baby Taxi Driver Sought For Questioning

NEW YORK (AP) — Another intense search for a kidnapped baby — the second abduction victim this month — centers today in The Bronx, where a woman answering the kidnaper's description sought lodging.

Meanwhile, detectives searched for a taxi driver who drove the kidnaper and the mother of the missing child, 25-day-old John Tavaraz, from a hospital Wednesday afternoon.

The hunt for the infant shifted to The Bronx Friday night after an apparently pregnant woman, carrying a child in her arms, inquired about quarters in a rooming house.

The baby, suffering from a cold, was taken Thursday from the Tavaraz' cramped West Side apartment by a one-day acquaintance of the mother, Dorazila, 31.

The woman, who duped the mother into leaving the baby with her, was described as Puerto Rican or Cuban, pregnant, in her 30s, 5 feet 2, about 160 pounds with blonde-streaked brown hair.

An anonymous telephone caller told police Friday night she saw a woman resembling the kidnaper enter a rooming house in The Bronx.

Police raced to the scene and began a house-to-house search. Jose Tavaraz, 30, and his wife appealed to the kidnaper to return their baby.

The father, struggling with the language of his adopted country, said:

"My wife and I feel like dead people. We lose something we love very much. We need our baby. The child is only 24 days old. He's sick. Please give it back to us. My wife and I cry every hour, every moment of the day, because we need our baby. . . ."

Many Ohio Roads Are Still Closed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Highway Department's weather bulletin said today that road closures due to high water are "too numerous to mention," but major highway travel is possible in most sections of the state.

Roads are generally slippery in spots except southeast of Georgetown, Hillsboro, Chillicothe, Mount Vernon, Coshocton, McConnellsville and Marietta. Roads are generally normal, except for slippery spots in Athens, Pomeroy and Jackson Areas. There are also wet spots in the Portsmouth area. Rising waters of the Ohio River, however, may block some roads in the Pomeroy area later in the day.

Roads also are normal in the Greenville, Sidney, Wapakoneta, Lisbon and Carrollton areas.

Dispute Stems From Strafing

Mexican-Guatemalan Relations Broken Off

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico is breaking off diplomatic relations with neighboring Guatemala but is leaving the door ajar for settlement of the fishing dispute which caused the break.

The Mexican move was announced Friday night by President Adolfo Lopez Mateos in an unusual nationwide broadcast.

The dispute stems from the strafing of Mexican fishing boats by Guatemalan planes Dec. 31. Mexico claims 3 fishermen were killed and 14 wounded. Guatemala seized three boats forced ashore. Two others returned to their Mexican bases on the Pacific Coast.

Mexico protested, demanding full satisfaction including reparations and official assurance no further attacks would be made.

Guatemala rejected a verbal protest, then brushed aside a formal written protest. Friday it turned down a Mexican proposal to submit the case to the International Court of Justice.

Lopez Mateos said in his broadcast that after this third negative reply Mexico "has reached the painful conclusion that no practical objective would be obtained by maintaining diplomatic relations with a government which, like that of Guatemala, has refused to give us satisfaction for the grave incident which it itself provoked."

He said the break did not mean Mexico was giving up its claims. But he left the door open for a resumption of relations, saying his government would study "any constructive proposals which may be made for the solution of this dispute, provided that they are compatible with the decency and dignity of the Mexican state."

1 Killed, 12 Hurt

As Bus Rams Bridge
CINCINNATI (AP) — One man was killed and 12 persons were injured early today when a city bus went out of control, hit a curb and careened into a bridge support.

The dead man was Fred Hamburg, 61, of Cincinnati.

A crew had to work 20 minutes to remove his body from the wreckage.

Among the injured, James Walsh, 63, of Cincinnati, was reported in critical condition.

George A. Highlander, 32, driver of the bus, suffered minor cuts. He told police he got into an argument with Hamburg over a transfer and lost control of the bus when he turned to speak to Hamburg.

Mrs. Dorothy Martin, 52, one of the injured passengers, told police the bus was traveling "very fast" when the accident occurred. Highlander was cited on a charge of reckless driving.

DiSalle Declares Emergency, Ike Promises Aid

Other States Suffer;
Many Persons Dead,
Thousands Homeless

By The Associated Press
Devastating floods left water-weary Ohio in a state of emergency today while neighboring Pennsylvania rallied to untangle new problems, including the plight of 12 trapped miners, in the wake of a severe soaking.

Damage was in the millions of dollars following a midweek assault from storms that loosened flood waters in the Midwest and Northeast.

Thousands were homeless. More than 8,000 residents left their homes at Chillicothe, Ohio; another 2,000 at Meadville, Pa. and another thousand at Wheeling, W. Va.

Ohio, alone, had a preliminary damage estimate of more than $3 million dollars, reported by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. He declared Ohio in a state of emergency Friday, saying damage could exceed 100 million dollars.

Some other conservative damage estimates were placed at 12 million in New York, 3 million in Sharon, Pa., and another 2 million for mine rescue operations around Pittston, Pa.

Overflowing rivers claimed 22 lives.

Ohio had 14 flood-connected deaths and Gov. DiSalle said 25 to 30 deaths might result from the swirling flood waters.

New York state reported four flood deaths while Indiana had three, Pennsylvania one, as it awaited the verdict on the miners trapped at the flooded mine area around Pittston in the northwest part of the state.

Hope Dims For Local Serviceman

Hope of finding Pfc. Gary Balsley, 20, of Salem alive is fading, Capt. Carl Kaplanoff, public relations officer of the Cleveland Army Air Defense, said today.

The local serviceman was reported missing Wednesday night during flood rescue operations in the Cleveland suburb of Valley View.

The youth stationed at the Garfield-Independence Nike site, disappeared when a rescue truck was swamped in the village.

The captain reported that the boy was not found in any of the homes that had been isolated in Valley View until yesterday morning. Capt. Kaplanoff also reported that a helicopter search of the area failed to turn up any sign of him.

Mrs. Paul D. Balsley of 1297 Eastview Drive are the serviceman's father and stepmother. His mother resides in Kissimmee, Fla.

Woman Swaps $8,000 For $25 And Is Happy

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Warren Gulau, a 30-year-old rural Oak Harbor housewife, swapped $8,000 for $25 today and said she was happy.

The odd transaction started Jan. 5 when Mrs. Gulau spotted a thick packet, bound with a heavy rubber band, rolling along the street in downtown Oak Harbor. She picked it up, stuffed it in the glove compartment of her car and drove home.

When she examined the packet she found a wad of $10 and $20 bills. It added up to $8,000. She was plenty scared. She quickly took it to the police chief.

It turned out that Edward Fairfield, manager of an Oak Harbor National Bank branch, had dropped the money. He was glad to get it back. He gave her $25 as reward for her honesty. The bills were not marked and would have been almost impossible to trace, Fairfield said.

Logic In Highway Planning

For years state highway officials have been cognizant of the fact that traffic relief was needed in Salem.

The opening of the Ohio Turnpike took away some of the heavy transient load and the diversion of State Route 14 away from the city also helped, but the full realization of traffic relief will not come until Route 62 is diverted from downtown State St.

Prospects appear to be encouraging. Everett S. Preston, Ohio's new state highway director, this week declared that his improvement program will be aimed chiefly at urban traffic relief and that certainly ought to keep the Route 62 project alive here.

Another statement by Mr. Preston also made sense. He emphasized that a vehicle-mile formula will be used, rather than actual costs, to determine the location of highways. If a road costs a bit more in one location, but serves a greater amount of traffic, then that road is cheaper in the long run.

This certainly ties in with the thinking of Salem city officials, the Mayor's Highway Committee and the Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee on wanting U.S. Route 62 re-located close to Salem rather than shooting across open fields far away.

All we have to do now is to let Mr. Preston and his new State Highway Division 11 engineer, John W. Hagan, know that we agree wholeheartedly with them and remind them that the City of Salem has its arterial highway plan already completed.

Corrupted With Our Own Money

If President Eisenhower can stand his ground in the fight against legal treasury embezzlers, it will be the political trick of the mid-century.

It might help Americans who have been corrupted with their own money to think about a little legal treasury embezzlement, also known as deficit financing.

When the teller of a bank, or an official responsible for public funds, takes money for his own use, he is an embezzler. The word is from a French word "embesillier" with a phonetic English spelling.

A legal treasury embezzler in the modern fashion in Washington is any official, especially a member of Congress, who takes more money out of public funds than he is willing to put back in.

Forget all the threadbare arguments pro and con on balancing the budget; they are beside the point anyway.

It is not how much money the United States spends that matters. Within reasonable limits, it is not how much money the United States collects from taxpayers that matters. It is the difference between what tax-spenders spend and what they have the courage to collect that keeps taking the value out of dollars.

THERE IS NO merit in balancing the federal budget just to have outgo and income approximately even. The merit is in preserving the value of the currency of the United States.

If the government can not or dare not collect from its citizens what the government spends to keep on the good side of its citizens, it is resorting to money devaluation to fool its own taxpayers.

Mikoyan Was Perfectly Charming

In the post-mortem on Anastas Mikoyan's visit to the United States, only one finding is conclusive.

The deputy premier of the Soviet Union proved to be charming. He demonstrated what had been demonstrated previously by Mikhail Menshikov, the Russian ambassador to the United States.

Both men have given the lie to the impression of reticence and surliness made by U.S.S.R. officials in this country. Both are urbane, with a lively sense of humor. The late Andrei Vishinsky, who drew the assignment of heckling the United States in the United Nations, also had these attributes, though they were overshadowed by his sharp tongue and caustic wit in U.N. debate.

Naturally, no American commenting on the Mikoyan visit wants to leave it unsaid that he knew all the time what Russia's No. 2 man was trying to do, in case there may be recriminations later on. Every American close enough to Mikoyan to say "Hello" may be called up in the carpet sometime to defend himself against an accusation of having given aid and comfort to a future enemy.

But Mikoyan made good impressions as an individual, however bad an impression his government has made and will continue to make, unless it changes its ways. Americans always have been so sure the foreign visitors must fall in love with their country if they

Once Over

Washington says taxpayers up to the $15,000 a year level will be allowed to use simple punch-card blank to give a "more human approach" and to "bolster taxpayers' morale."

What morale? It's too far gone to be bolstered. When income tax first appeared it softened up morale. Inside a few years it gave morale "the works."

For the last 20 years there hasn't been enough morale left in an American taxpayer to be located without a microscope.

You could assemble all happy income-tax payers in one group in any phone booth and have room for a second platoon for defensive purposes. Morale disappeared long ago.

Taxes now are at the point where they destroy the taxpayer's white corpuscles. Speeches of governors, mayors and congressmen calling for more taxes sap vitality. Even photos of legislators PROMISING to cut taxes now leave people limp and pretty lifeless.

MR. AND MRS. TAXPAYER are beyond morale bolstering by collection procedures. Punch-card tax blank may help a little, since it will resemble a bus transfer and merely lengthen the ride on which taxpayers are being taken by the government.

We like the "human approach" decision and suggest it come like this:

Dear Taxpayer We are sending you income tax form in three stages as a matter of kindness. This is the new No. 1 Form or "Break-It-Easy Blank" to remind you the time is near.

It is being as cruel as if it were stealing groceries from widows and orphans, which in effect is what it does when it takes the buying power out of money.

Spendocrats are jeering at Mr. Eisenhower and his budget-balancing talk as if he were some kind of an amiable halfwit who did not understand the realities of public finance. They are accusing him of making a fetish of a balanced budget.

The fact is, Mr. Eisenhower has the counsel of hard-headed financiers who are not running for public office and are not interested in corrupting the American people with their own money.

The fact is, as some of the more discerning Spendocrats will know, that Mr. Eisenhower is fighting a battle the United States must not lose, lest it start a flight from the dollar that would make it impossible to carry the enormous debt which represents the embezzlements of public officials who lacked the guts to collect what they spent.

That's the big budget fight.

THAT IS WHAT the argument is going to be about in Congress — whether the politicians who vote to take money out of public funds will be made to put back as much as they take out.

The accusation against the Spendocrats is not that they are spending too much money. It is that they are legally embezzling the U. S. Treasury by taking more out than they are putting in.

If the time ever came when Congress had to quit spending and electing and had to start taxing before it could spend, there wouldn't be a Spendocrat in the entire District of Columbia.

take the trouble to learn about it first hand that they cannot help but have the highest hopes for Anastas Mikoyan. He has learned a great deal.

He knows that Americans want peace. They want to be friendly. Many of them want to do business with Russia. They are leary of appeasement. They do not like statism, which is a form of government that makes gods of mortal politicians. They are mortally afraid of Communism as a creed that calls for the extinction of all non-believers in Communism.

The rub is that Mikoyan, Khrushchev and all other knowledgeable Russians knew all these things before.

Right On the Job

Who ever heard of filling chuck holes in the streets in winter time? We have, right here in Salem.

Deep, jagged holes erupted from the bituminous paving of some city streets during the recent January thaw and freeze but the street department quickly patched them with an asphalt mix.

Even if the patch holds only until spring, we motorists say "thanks" to the service department.

Sure there's a key to fame and fortune—YOU!

Second form will be a Bracer-Upper with best wishes and a chance on an auto. It will carry green stamps.

Number Three Form or "Chiller-Diller" will be the bad news itself. Realizing it is painful we are printing it in cheerful colors, with quotations from famous poems on courage, hope and stiff upper lip.

P.S.: This final form will be a punch-card entitling you to punch not only the tax blank but any three governors, mayors or senators.

Columbiana B. & P. W. Club Plans Card Party Wednesday

COLUMBIANA — Annual benefit card party sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club, an event which attracts hundreds of bridge, five hundred and canasta players, will be held Wednesday at Dixon school, starting at 8 p.m.

Proceeds go to the local Girl Scout movement. Tickets may be secured from any club member, or tables may be reserved by calling Miss Kathryn Fuhrman and Mrs. Esther Sponseller.

Atty. Elton W. Luckhart of Youngstown, first vice chairman of the Republican party in Mahoning county, will be guest speaker at the Columbiana Republican Women's Club meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the home economics room of the high school. Club officers for 1959 will be seated. Committee for the meeting includes Mrs. Louise Gormley, Mrs. Virginia Stockman, Mrs. Virginia Felger and Mrs. Lois Longshore.

A NEW REVISED annexation petition from an area south of town has been filed with county commissioners by James Hunt, agent, who said 117 signatures are contained on the papers, or 70 percent of the 166 eligible property owners. The new petition is for an area of approximately 441 acres, quite a bit smaller than the area included in original petitions turned down by commissioners last year.

The majority of home sites included in the territory proposed for annexation to the village are along the Fairfield School Rd. and on the Middleton Rd.

The petition omits the large Edgerton and McCormick farms which were included in the first proposal but obviously not favorable with those property holders. Eastern boundary of the newly-described area follows the Y. & S. Railroad tracks, thus excluding both the Edgerton and McCormick farms.

Hunt, who also served as agent in the previous unsuccessful annexation move, has started a residential development known as "Heather Downs" on the Middleton Rd. Other petition circulators were Kenneth Bell and Stanley Yeager, both residents of the area.

Under prescribed legal procedure, the commissioners will hold the petition for 60 days, then conduct a public hearing on the proposal, with residents of the affected area invited to attend and offer comment. If okayed by the commissioners, the annexation petition goes to village council for acceptance or rejection.

A film, "Skyway to Hawaii," will be featured at a meeting of the Young Adults of Jerusalem Lutheran Church, set for 8 p.m. Tuesday at the church. Program chairmen are Ray and Gloria Souder. Hosts will be Paul and Dorothy Barkley and Jack and Corrine Stevens.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Drawing On the Power of Faith

Not long ago I had some correspondence with a woman who runs two weekly newspapers. She's a remarkable writer and I've enjoyed reading her letters and editorials from her newspapers.

She has the gift of economy of words. She knows how to select words and how to make each bear maximum weight. She's picturesque in her writing style.

She gets to the point and has a sound philosophy as well. Let me quote from her letter: "I am 43 built with broad shoulders and strictly all beef, which means I can and do carry a load. I work long hours without rest and still feel bubbling with energy and hope. I have bright, clear eyes; don't use glasses, although I read or write constantly; have no gray hair and feel young. I'm never sick simply because I can't afford the time or the money. Both my mother and grandmother were crippled for years with arthritis, but the minute it hit me, I just simply stated to my hands that they would have to type whether it hurt them or not, and asked God to make it possible, and after a while the pain left and so did the stiffness. . . ."

"I rarely even get a cold, except if I get discouraged. My last illness was a day off when my sixth son was born one Monday night, but I was able to get the paper out on Thursday. This is just to tell you that I do draw on the power of faith."

WELL, YOU MAY SAY that's very interesting but it just doesn't work that way. What do you mean it doesn't work that way? It certainly does. It is my certain opinion that we bring many of our troubles upon ourselves, including physical ones, simply because we are willing to accept them. In our negativism and defeatism we create a mental climate favorable to their development.

When you refuse to accept troubles, when you make every effort to overcome their crippling effects, when you draw upon the power of faith, and strongly believe that victory will be yours, then you have a very good chance of overcoming them.

Of course, you cannot think your troubles away without a real, active follow-through. But one thing is sure: Unless you do think positively you will never budge your troubles at all. To gain victory over troubles you must think victory, believe in victory, and then effectively go about achieving it.

What a wonderful affirmation: "I draw on the power of faith!" Have you ever really done that? And even more important, have you built up within yourself a deposit of faith upon which you can draw in time of need?

IF YOU HAVEN'T, this is one investment program you ought to start now. It's more important than any insurance, any savings, any property. For, without faith in God, in your fellow man and in yourself all your other investments are worthless.

I am very interested in dynamic experiences with faith such as those the newspaper woman wrote to me about. For, as Dr. Samuel M. Shoemaker writes in his book "Faith at Work": "We live in an experimental age; and, while we value the work of scholars and theologians, we must also have the continual evidence of faith which the experiments of laymen provide. These often provoke more experimentation on the part of other laymen than do more abstract and theoretical declarations about religious faith by the professionals." If you have had a real experience of the power of faith, write and tell me about it.

And start drawing on the power of your own faith and see what wonderful things you too can accomplish.

Growing Up

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	I Corinthians	13	11-13
Monday	II Timothy	3	15
Tuesday	Psalms	144	9-15
Wednesday	Psalms	92	1-15
Thursday	Ecclesiastes	7	8
Friday	I Thessalonians	5	14-15
Saturday	Hebrews	12	1-2

Would you like to be a child forever? Would you like to go sledding each time it snowed without a thought of shoveling the front walk or checking the firewood supply?

If at first you say yes, think again. Childhood is wonderful, but there are few of us who would want to be confined to it forever. Our natural urge toward growth is a strong one. We instinctively want to progress mentally, physically, and spiritually.

Nature will take care of a large part of the mental and physical part of our growth. But for our spiritual development, we must look toward the Church.

It is never too late to start learning—and you will find the Church the most patient of teachers. Start attending services this Sunday.

Quakers Set Record In Mauling Wellsville 106-51

Hunter Cans 25, Slaby 24;
Locals Hit On 56 Percent
Of Shots As 11 Men Score

By GORDON ARNDT

The most awesome display of scoring power in the history of Salem High School basketball took place Friday night at the Quaker gym before 1,800 fans as the Red and Black cagers of Salem set an all-time scoring record in mauling the Wellsville Tigers 106-51.

The point total eclipsed the previous mark of 105 set in the first game of the 1954-55 season when Salem beat Youngstown Ursuline 105-58.

The Quakers were blazing hot from the field hitting on 42 of 75 attempts for a season high of 56 percent. They hit on 12 of 17 shots in the third quarter and 12 of 21 in the final frame.

Every one of the 11 men who dressed saw action and all 11 entered the scoring column. Dave Hunter paced the locals with 25 tallies while big Lou Slaby was right behind with 24. Both men played but three quarters. Next was Dan Krichbaum with 17 and then Jim Lehwald with 14.

Woody Deitch, the Quakers' leading scorer with an 18.4 average, did not dress. He sat out the game with an injured left hand. He is expected to be ready for the Youngstown South game here Tuesday night.

Tim Burchfield, a 6-1 junior, gets credit for establishing the new mark. He hit a jump shot from the side with but two seconds to play to make it 106-51.

The Quakers went over the century mark with 2:06 left to play when Carl Dunn, a 5-11 sophomore, connected on a jump shot from the top of the foul circle.

Wellsville made 18 of 55 shots for 32.8 percent. Their one man gang, Dan Baldwin, scored 34 points on 13 fielders and eight of 19 foul shots. He was Wellsville's entire offense and almost their whole rebound strength. Without him the score would have been even more lopsided in Salem's favor.

THE VISITORS stayed in the game for exactly one quarter. After eight minutes Salem led 19-14. The Tigers threw a man to man defense at the Quakers and this was a big mistake.

The maneuver allowed Slaby to move around the boards with great effectiveness. He and Clyde Marks controlled the boards while Lehwald, Hunter and Krichbaum moved the ball faster than a card shark dealing poker hands.

The "little men" pressed full court for Salem and led the fast break after getting rebounds from Slaby and Marks. This story has spelled success for Salem all season long was printed in big bold capital letters last night.

The teams were even somewhat in the first frame. Salem shot into a 7-0 lead on scoring by Hunter and Slaby. Wellsville scored with 5:47 left on a bucket by Frank Jackson. For the rest of the frame Hunter and Slaby shared Salem's scoring while Baldwin did so for Jack McDevitt's losers.

Wellsville crumpled and fell dead before the destructive powers of the Salem juggernaut in the second quarter. In this frame Salem outpointed Wellsville 29-4 to take an overwhelming 48-18 lead at the half. What is remarkable about this terrific spurt is that it occurred within a period of five minutes and 43 seconds. There was no scoring in the frame until the 5:43 mark when Hunter canned a fielder.

Hunter was all over the court harassing the Wellsville dribblers along with Krichbaum and Lehwald. With Slaby and Marks getting the rebounds the Wellsville team fell further and further behind.

SLABY played a great game around the boards in making foul low up shots and drive-ins on passes from his smaller mate. Hunter dribbled like the Boston Celtics' Bob Cousy and left many a Tiger with his teeth in his mouth as the 5-10 junior drove in for an easy pair.

He, Krichbaum and Lehwald were in Wellsville's hair all night. The Tigers just had an incurable dandruff problem in these three men who'll all be back next season.

Hunter scored eight points and Krichbaum and Slaby two each at the outset of the second quarter. With 4:06 left in the half Salem led 29-14 before Wellsville could score.

Then the dam broke on Wellsville as Salem's tidal wave of scoring destruction completely inundated the Tigers' machine. The Quakers went on a spree of 19 straight points in the next two minutes and 40 seconds. By then they were in front 48-16 before Baldwin hit a goal to make it 48-18 at the half.

In the third quarter Salem led 66-29 with two minutes remaining. Here Jim Solmen and Erick Thiess replaced Marks and Slaby.

At the start of the last frame Coach John Cabas of Salem inserted Tim Burchfield for Hunter. As the quarter progressed he emptied his bench in quick order. The "reserves" outscored Wellsville 30-19 in the final frame to show their offensive might too.

Salem led 89-40 with five minutes to play when the Quaker student section began clamoring, "We want 100". Three minutes later Dunn connected and the Quakers were on top 100-48 with 2:06 left.

THEN WITH two seconds to play in the game Burchfield set the school all-time mark with his fielder to make the final court 106-51.

Lehwald turned in a commendable performance in Deitch's place. The 6-1 junior scored 14 points besides playing a tremendous floor game. He was in on fast breaks and stole many passes besides sharing in the rebounds.

However, if two players had to be mentioned as the pair who played the best game it would be Hunter and Slaby. The 5-10 Hunter is an excellent defensive man and his offensive maneuvers were something to behold as was Slaby's work under the boards. Slaby made 10 of 13 shots for 77 percent.

REBOUND statistics by Torch Nedelka show that Salem outrebounded Wellsville 29-26 with Slaby leading the way with nine. Baldwin had eight for the losers.

Marks was on Baldwin's ace to 11 points plus blocking many shots and tying up the 6-2 cager who entered the game with a 26.5 average. His average now is 27.3. Baldwin got nine points in the third quarter and then added 14 in the final frame against Salem's reserves.

Jim Solmen entered the game for Salem with 1:40 left to play in the third frame. He fouled out five minutes and 15 seconds later with 4:25 to go in the final frame after hacking Baldwin.

Salem's win was their eighth straight and 11th in 12 games this season. Wellsville is now 5-5. The Quakers will entertain Youngstown south here next Tuesday. The Youngstowners are 6-5 on the season. Last night they downed Niles 52-45, a team Salem beat 74-40.

Patterson May Fight Swedish Contender

NEW YORK (AP) — Barring a last minute hitch at the conference table, a world heavyweight championship fight between Champion Floyd Patterson and Sweden's Ingemar Johansson probably will be signed Tuesday or Wednesday.

Promoter Bill Rosensohn emerged Friday night from a long conference with Johansson, the European champ, and Cus D'Amato, manager of the world titleholder, with the most optimistic reports.

"Everything went well," said Rosensohn, whose only previous fight venture was the Patterson-Roy Harris bout in Los Angeles last August. "There seems to be an agreement on all basic terms and conditions."

"The next step is for the lawyers to try to draft an agreement embodying all the various agreements. Presumably they will get to work on that Monday. We should have a contract by Tuesday or Wednesday. Everything looks very good."

silver anniversary this year, having been started in 1934 by the late Joe Kelly.

The returns from having the tourney at the high school would be unending.

No longer would tourney officials be hindered in attracting clubs from all over the Tri-State district. The meet would be on a par with similar tourneys held in East Liverpool, Sebring, Hubbard and Sharon.

Big name independent teams have not appeared here because of inadequate facilities, principally a miniature floor.

Salem basketball fans deserve a local tourney on a big time basis. The greatest names in Ohio cage circles would be enticed to appear here if the tourney were at the Senior High gym.

Attendance figures would increase ten fold and the income derived could be used to improve Salem sports as seen by tourney officials.

SALEM already is on Ohio's basketball map but its degree of remaining indelible would greatly be increased by a tournament in the senior gym.

It's not a remote possibility that scholastic state tourneys on a sectional level will be held someday in the 6th St. arena.

Why not start now with the consideration of bringing top flight ball to Salem? The crowds at the Little City tourney would be comprised of Salemites and immediate area fans and not so called "strangers" that would infiltrate the gym should state scholastic tournaments be held here.

School authorities already have endorsed the idea of using the High School gym for scholastic functions outside the realm of sports. Why not extend this consideration to placing a big name independent tourney right here in our own backyard?

Young Pro Leads In Golf Tourney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Par remained anything but a mystery today as Jim Ferree, a young professional with a pleasant North Carolina draw, led the way into the third round of the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational Tournament.

Of the 41 invited pros, only seven were over par 71-71-142 for the 36 hole distance at the Thunderbird Country Club.

Ferree, 27, whose biggest win as a pro was scored in the British Columbia Centennial last year at Vancouver, set the pace with a pair of 66s for 132.

One stroke behind were Doug Ford and Wes Ellis Jr., also with 66s Friday, and Bo Wining, whose 64 was the best of the par whacking in the second round.

Three shots back of the leader were three dangerous challengers — Ken Venturi, the 1958 winner and recent victor in the Los Angeles Open; Marty Furgol, the ever-youthful Jimmy DeMaret, who three times has walked away with the top money in this event.

Deadlocked at 136 were five players — Jack Burke Jr., Lloyd Mangrum, Billy Maxwell, Gene Littler and Bob Rosburg.

Fairfield-Waterford Leads All The Way

Fairfield-Waterford eked out a 69-64 victory over Canfield Friday night in a cage game played on the winners' court to give the Rebels an 8-5 record for the season.

The Cardinals have won six games while losing seven. Shooting almost 50 per cent from the floor, the Rebels assumed an 18-13 lead in the first quarter and padded it to 36-27 by the intermission.

The eventual winners held an 11-point bulge, 53-42, at the three-quarter mark.

High scorers for the Rebels were Lee Chamberlain and Jim Olnhausen, each of whom netted 18. Four other players tallied for the victors.

Harry McPhee and Paul Baird each scored 16 points to pace the Cardinals. Also scoring in the double figures for the invaders was Jack Blott who tallied 12.

Four other players entered the Canfield scoring column.

The Fairfield-Waterford Reserves did not fare as well as as their varsity, losing 60-30.

The Rebels next contest will be Tuesday at home against the Greenford Bobcats.

United States Cagers Defeat Puerto Rico

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Favored United States, shaken by Friday night's close call in the World Amateur Basketball Championship, perhaps now believes the coach who told his players they can't afford to relax.

The Americans still were one of our unbeaten teams with a 2-0 record, but only by a virtue of Bob Hodges' field goal in the closing seconds.

Out-hustled and out-shot most of the way by a red-hot Puerto Rican team, paced by former Kansas State player Juan Vicens, the Air Force personnel representing the United States was lucky to escape with a 54-53 victory.

"I told them all teams are good in this thing and they can't take it easy against anybody," said Coach Charles (Buzz) Bennett, formerly of Minnesota. "But I guess they didn't believe me."

Chile also has a 2-0 record and Russia 1-0. Russia plays Brazil in one of tonight's two games. Bulgaria (0-2) meets Chile in the other.

No games are scheduled Sunday.

Hughes Will Resign Coaching Position

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Marshall Hughes is quitting as head basketball coach at the University of Texas at the end of this season, to return to what he says is his first love—teaching.

Hughes said he felt the time had come when "I should make the decision between coaching and teaching. I came to the university to prepare myself for teaching, and have kept that objective in mind throughout my stay here."

He said he had no definite plans except to complete his doctorate. He has a master's degree in education.

His resignation was announced eight days after he was hanged in effigy from the flagpole on the campus.

Texas has a 3-12 record for the season and is last in the conference race.

The United Golden Eagles soared to another cage victory Friday night, swamping a hapless Augusta quintet 78-39 in a contest played on the winners' floor.

The Golden Eagles, who had a height advantage over their adversaries, oushot their opponents from the floor 37 per cent to a meager 19 per cent.

Coach Bob Penrod's cagers jumped off to a 15-9 first quarter lead and padded their advantage in each succeeding frame.

At the intermission the score was 37-14 and at the three-quarter mark 51-25. The United Reserves played almost the entire last half of the varsity tilt.

Jim Summer paced the victors with 24 points. He was followed by Frank Shagnot who tallied 21 markers. They were the only two United players to tally in the double figures.

However, eight other Golden Eagles entered the scoring column.

Shagnot hauled down 25 rebounds during the course of the contest.

Alfred Zwahlen netted four goals and seven fouls for 15 points to pace the losers. Five other Augusta players scored.

The triumph gives the Golden Eagles an 11-1 record for the season.

Rumbles of Discontent Heard

Salary Squabbles May Plague Major League Baseball Clubs

By The Associated Press
Major league baseball players are blasting off like an Atlas missile in an effort to get more money out of their employers.

Name players like Boston's Ted Williams, baseball's highest paid hired hand; San Francisco's Willie Mays and the Chicago Cubs' Ernie Banks, the National League's most valuable player last year, have signed contracts calling for increases.

But there have been enough rumbles of discontent from other first-line players to indicate that the clubs may be in for a number of serious salary squabbles before spring training opens March 1.

Roy Hamey might have had a comparatively easy job if he had remained general manager at Philadelphia, for few of the last-place Phillies have strong talking points. But being assistant general manager of the New York Yan-

Salem JVs Roll Over Tigers 71-47

The Salem junior varsity cagers broke a two-game losing streak last night by rolling over the Wellsville reserves 71-47 as nine Quakers entered the scoring column.

Ed Enemark led the way for Karl Zellers squad with 17 points while Tim Burchfield tallied 14, Erick Theis 12 and Carl Dunn 10. Bill DeSarro had nine for Wellsville who didn't have one man in double figures but a team that had 10 men score.

Salem bolted into a 23-8 lead after the first quarter and were never in trouble thereafter. It was 39-18 at the half and 55-29 after three periods.

Zellers emptied his bench in the final frame as 14 men saw action.

The local JVs will meet the Youngstown South JVs Tuesday at 7 p.m. here seeking their 10th win in 13 starts.

Colorado U. Grid Coach Is Ousted

DENVER (AP)—The man who coached the University of Colorado into football prominence was fired Friday. Resentment and speculation trailed in the wake of the action by the school's board of regents.

The board voted five to one to relieve Dallas (Dal) Ward of the post he held for 11 years at the Big Eight Conference school.

During that period, the Buffaloes won 62 games, lost 41 and tied 6, and held a series advantage over each conference rival except Oklahoma and Missouri.

President Quigg Newton named a five-member committee to screen applications for a new coach. Of the board's action, he said:

"This just means there will be a change in the management of football here. There will be no change in policy."

Speculation on a successor included Bob Blackman, head coach at Dartmouth; Terry Brennan, late of Notre Dame; Hardin-Simmons Coach Sammy Baugh and Doak Walker, former SMU and Detroit Lions star now a businessman in Wyoming.

Their popularity has spread like wild fire. It began in Western Canada and has been noted all over the continent to the Pacific Ocean.

The Brunetti, Guy and Joe, will wrestle Jim Wright and Baron Gatoni in a 90-minute limit, best two of three falls match.

In the second bout of the night Gatoni and Guy Brunetti will wrestle in a singles match.

Tickets for the show which starts at 8 p.m. are on sale at Fishers News Agency and Gordon Scott Sports.

Columbiana Annexation Hearing Set

Columbiana County Commissioners have set Friday, April 3, at 10:30 a.m. as the date for the hearing on a proposed annexation to the Village of Columbiana of a 441-acre tract south of Columbiana.

As the result of a newly-submitted petition, the commissioners will inspect the Fairfield Township area involved Friday, March 27, at 1:30 p.m., according to R. Max Gard, commissioners' president.

Most of the residents affected by the petition reside along the Fairfield School road extending as far as the Robert L. Forney property, and along the Middleton Rd., extending as far as the Edward Miller residence.

This petition is a revised version of one submitted in May of last year in which the commissioners refused to consider the petition because descriptions contained in it of the boundaries of the area to be annexed were found to be faulty, Mr. Gard said.

That petition was objected to by two land owners, Joseph Edgerton and W. L. McCormick. Their properties have been eliminated in the new petition.

The petition carries the signatures of 117 property owners eligible to sign. The acting agent, James Hunt, who served on same capacity last time, says it is 70 percent of the 166 property owners involved.

Other petition circulators included Kenneth Bell and Stanley Yeager, both residents of the area. Under the law the county commissioners must hold the petition for 60 days, and then conduct a public hearing on the proposal. Residents of the area are invited to express their views at the public hearing, Mr. Gard said.

Atty. John E. Bauknecht of East Palestine is counsel for the petitioners.

Ingrid Bergman Gets Custody of Children

PARIS (AP) — A French court today awarded to Ingrid Bergman custody of the three children born of her broken marriage to Italian film director Roberto Rossellini. The court, in a provisional ruling, however, granted visiting rights to Rossellini and decreed the children attend an Italian school in Paris.

The final decision of the French court will not be handed down for at least a year. It will take precedence—at least in France—over any Italian court action.

Cincinnati Fire Loss Estimated at $200,000

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fire, fed by coal dust, swept through the plant of the Raymond City Coal and Transportation Co., in suburban North Bend early today, causing damage estimated unofficially at $200,000.

A conveyor chute, used to move coal from Ohio River barges to the firm's main building, collapsed on three sets of railroad tracks during the fire, blocking New York Central and Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks for five hours. A dozen trains had to be held up until the wreckage could be cleared.

Volunteer firemen from North Bend, Cleves, Addyston and Miami Heights battled the flames for four hours before the fire was extinguished.

2 Gunmen Get $12,000 at Canton Bank

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Two gunmen robbed a shopping center branch of the Citizens Savings Assn. today and escaped with an estimated $12,000.

The men moved into the bank at 9:20 a. m. and while one of them went to the north end of the building in the County Fair Shopping center in front of the outside counter, the other went to the other end and jumped a railing.

The second man pointed a .32 caliber revolver at Gordon Horst, the branch manager, and ordered him to fill a shopping bag with bills from three tellers' windows.

There were no customers in the bank. While the money was being put in the shopping bag, the other gunman whipped out his revolver and kept up a steady line of threats to the four tellers not to move.

Richard Gilbert, executive vice president of the bank, estimated the loss. He said the money all was insured and that the robbers missed a large amount of money from the vault and from a reserve cash box.

The men forced the tellers and the manager to lie face down on the floor behind the counter, then walked out the front door.

The State Highway Patrol threw 15 cars into the search and with police and the sheriff's office threw up a network of blockades in the area.

Flood

storms rose to 98. Other storm connected deaths totaled: Illinois 13, Indiana 3, Iowa 8, Michigan 8, Kansas 5, Kentucky 5, Missouri 2, New Jersey 1, New Mexico 3, New York 1, Ohio 3, Oklahoma 2, Pennsylvania 3, Texas 6 and Wisconsin 13.

But little hope was given for the rescue of the miners. Ohio's latest disaster occurred Friday when the Scioto River in the central part of the state soared over a sandbagged embankment at Chillicothe, sending a third of the city's 25,000 population rushing from their homes.

As citizens prepared for a massive cleanup job, officials expressed concern over the swollen Ohio River in southeastern Ohio. If an anticipated flood flows today, Marietta expects to evacuate some 300 families.

Following DiSalle's order Friday, President Eisenhower announced that federal aid would be forthcoming for inundated portions of Ohio and Pennsylvania.

In western Pennsylvania, a number of flood-belted communities breathed easier as swollen streams receded.

However, the city of Meadville sought refuge for its 2,000 homeless after two big ice gorges of the rampaging French Creek had splashed water over an estimated 10 per cent of the community. French Creek is a tributary of the Allegheny and below the flood stage as did the Ohio, formed at Pittsburgh by merging the Allegheny and the Monongahela Rivers.

About 400 persons were sheltered in an emergency center at a Meadville junior high school. Other evacuees were reported at homes of relatives or friends.

At the other end of the state, rescue workers at Pittston struggled to reach 12 trapped miners and halt the dangerous flow of the Susquehanna River into Wyoming Valley coal mines. Officials in that region expressed fears that river water's pushing into a mine breach in nearby Port Griffith might force poisonous and explosive gas to the surface.

Travel

Not all the flood and cold were outdoors after the Assembly adjourned for the week Thursday morning.

Legislators had been advised to contact the State Highway Patrol or the Columbus Auto Club for information on streets and highways before starting out for their homes.

This resulted in a real flood of telephone calls from the statehouse, which combined with thousands of calls from elsewhere in the city to delay contact with the desired offices for as much as two hours.

The Statehouse situation was not enhanced by the fact that the regular operator for the House phones was kept at home by high water and a less experienced substitute had to take over in the deluge.

In the middle of it all, something went wrong with the system by which Ohio Penitentiary keeps the Statehouse warm and the temperature began to drop.

After a couple of hours with no heat at all coming in, the cavernous building was approaching the subfreezing cold outside. That helped some of the legislators to decide on a course of action pretty quickly.

As one would expect, the Statehouse square is ringed with eating places of varying sizes and degrees of elegance, and all do a booming business during the Assembly sessions.

Except on rainy days, that is, and there have been plenty of those in the last two weeks. Then the lion's share of the lunch sales goes to a cafeteria-style, stand-up-to-eat counter operated by the physically handicapped in the basement of the Statehouse.

It's not fancy and it's "atmosphere" is not of the plush variety, but it is dry.

That's more than could be said of the upstairs, where visitors to the Statehouse had to dodge several sizeable puddles created by leaks in the roof of the rotunda.

Governor Flooded, Too
In addition to his official flood cares, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle shared a household problem common throughout the state.

He had water in his basement and a leak in the kitchen roof of the executive mansion, he told a press conference.

"How much water in the basement?" a reporter asked.

"Enough to wade in," the governor said.

"How much was that? Two inches?"

"I didn't measure it," he replied. "But I went down the steps to check on it, decided I couldn't swim it, and turned back."

Everybody Gets Wet

Highway Safety Director Grant Keys accompanied the governor Wednesday night when he and Adj. Gen. Loren G. Windom made an inspection tour of the Mount Vernon area, then the most critical flood spot in the state.

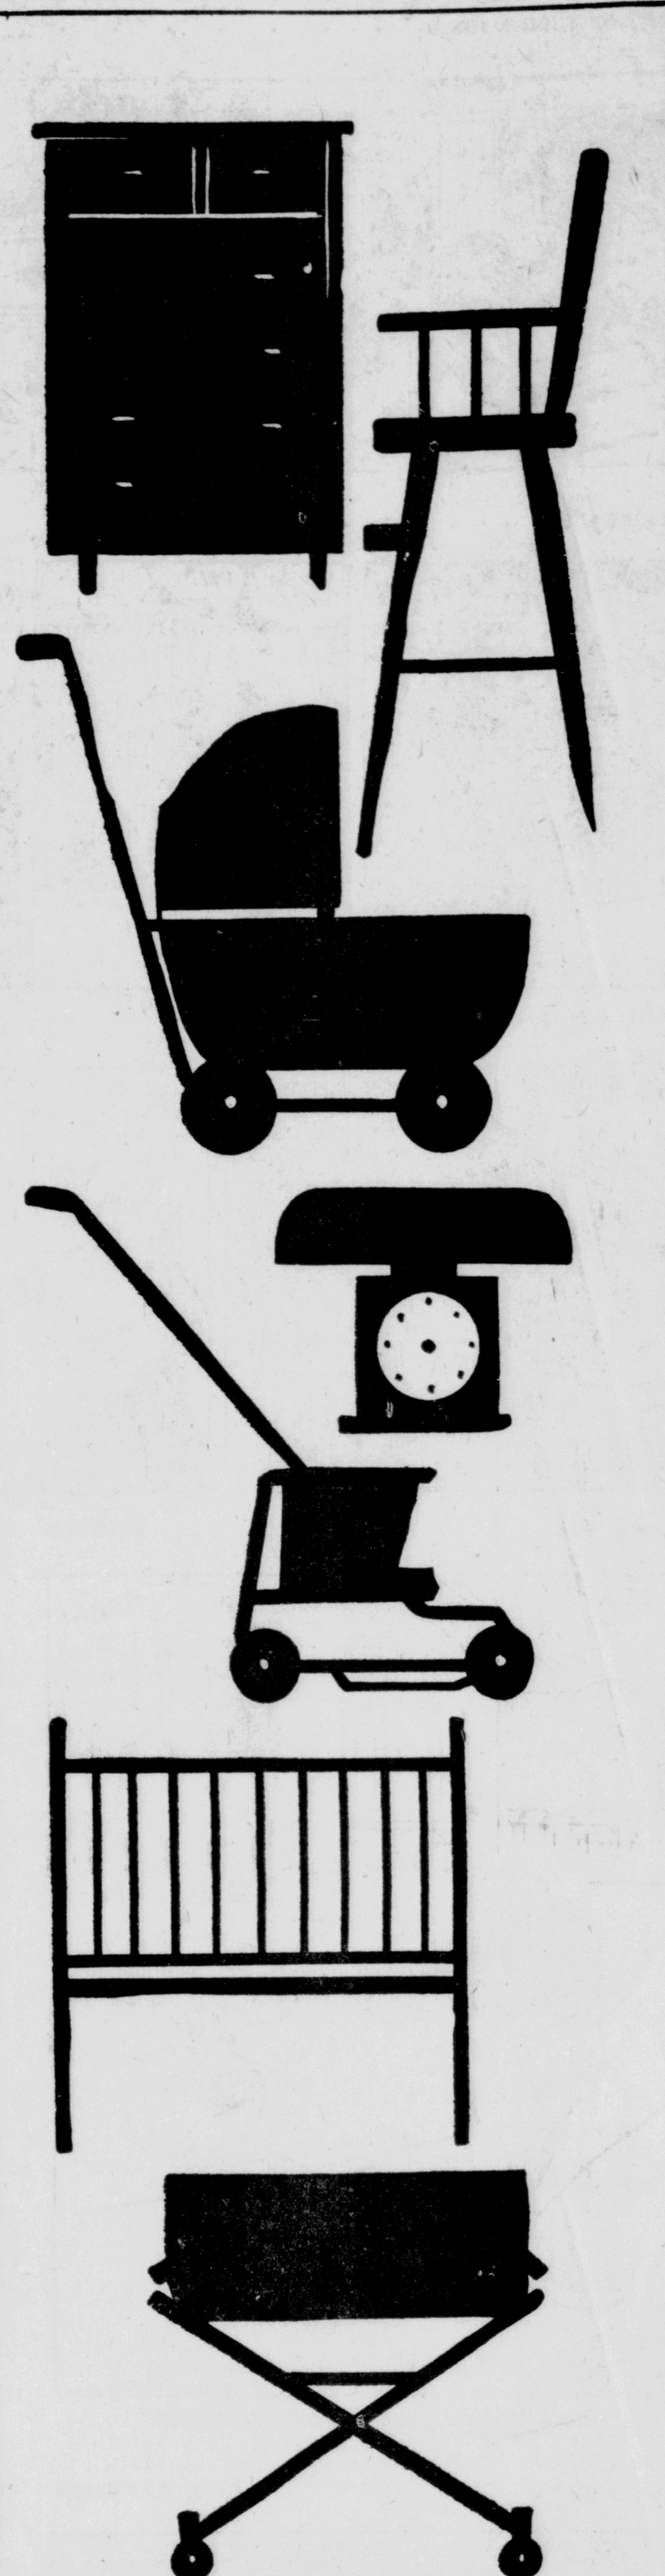

On the tour, Keys talked to a woman Republican leader in Knox County. Commenting on the new Democratic administration's official concern with the disaster, she reminded the director that Knox County went Republican in the November election.

"That doesn't matter in a case like this," Keys said. "Republicans get wet the same as Democrats." Back on the subject of travel, two legislative commuters on a plane headed for home late Thursday night were discussing the merits of a proposed constitutional amendment to provide for annual sessions of the Assembly.

Among the arguments in favor was mentioned the fact that the biennial sessions had been instituted back in the days of more primitive transportation when it was a long and tiresome matter to get to and from the state capital. "Certainly that isn't the case now," one of the conversationalists said.

Then there was a moment's silence and the pair broke into guffaws loud enough to rise above the roar of the airliner's engines.

They had both just spent something over 13 hours trying to get out of Columbus.
